Abstract

Masculism, the obvious male equivalent of the word "feminism" is the ideology of men's liberation, which essentially is a rebellion by men against working for women. Masculism pushes women to become FIPs (financially independent persons), to become career competent, and not expect to parasite upon men's money. Such financially parasitic women are labeled "fluffies" by the masculists and are despised by them. Masculists advise traditional men (labeled "robots") not to have relationships with fluffies, preferring FIPs. Masculists threaten fluffies with "If you want to get a man, get a career" and advise men "Rather a FIP than a fluffie" Masculists aim to wipe out fluffies, forcing them all to become FIPs, so that boys need not be socialized into the traditional male role, that literally kills men.
