

The Old World Upper Class Dominance

The French despise the rise of the US as the dominant culture in the 20th century with its unsophisticated middle class values inherited from the classes of its immigrants.

Once China democratizes, and civilizes, its old world upper class values can assert themselves and lead the world into a more sophisticated existence, so that the 95% of non Americans can lead a more sophisticated existence.