Abstract

This essay discusses the psychological consequences as the lessons of PR (political realism) sink in with those groups of humanity that science shows are inferior according to various psychological tests (e.g. IQ, enterprise, crime rate, violence, etc).

1. Introduction

In western migrant countries today (e.g. US, Canada, Australian, New Zealand, etc) an ideological war is going on between proponents of PC and PR. PC is “political correctness” which advocates that all racial groups are equal in ability and should be treated with equal respect. PR is “political
